

Contents

1 INTRODUCTION

A conceptual landscape	1
An outline of David Byrne s work	4
Different approaches to interpretation	11
Conceptual resources in Byrne s work	14
A comparative approach to performance	18
A poetics of reflexivity	19

I CONCEPTUAL WORK IN THE MASS MEDIA

2 MUSIC AS A MIMETIC ARENA

The mimetic potential of music	27
Artistic preparations: the rejection of mimesis	34
The Talking Heads first two records	39
Experiments with rhythms, textures and personae	46
The communal production of musical meaning	50
Solitary voices embedded in communal rhythms	55
Anthropomorphic aspects of music	64
Archetypical conflicts: We re goin boom boom boom	70
Persona as mimetic texture: Speaking In Tongues	75

3 FILM AND PERFORMANCE THEATRE

A concert in the cinema: Stop Making Sense	83
A concert put in context: Talking Heads vs. The Television The Knee Plays , a score for Robert Wilson s performance theatre	87
Little Creatures and the video clip Road to Nowhere	96
True Stories : Byrne s Gesamtkunstwerk	100
Performance theatre on film: Dead End Kids The Forest : a music-theater piece	113
Byrne s version of The Forest , a film that never got made	116
	122

4 ANTHROPOLOGY AND MUSIC

Anthropology and the mass media	125
The Talking Heads' last record	126
Ilé Aiyé : an ethnographic documentary on musical ritual	128
Rei Momo : incorporating a foreign sensibility	133
Soundtracks for anthropological art documentaries	139
Luaka Bop: a record label against homogeneity	140
Byrne's solo albums	143
Other projects and collaborations	144

5 PHOTOGRAPHY AND BOOKS

Photography as a mimetic arena	149
Design and photography	150
Strange Ritual : documents of sacralization	154
Your Action World : profane motivations	157
The New Sins : a catechism of chaos	159
The Wedding Party	161
The dance of politics, documented in press photography	163

II THEORIES OF PERFORMANCE

6 EXPLORING THE FOUNDATIONS OF PERFORMANCE

Byrne's theoretical orientation	169
The ubiquity of myth, according to Jung and Campbell	171
Evolutionary foundations of human culture	177
The place of poetic archetypes in modernity	182

7 PERFORMANCE THEORY IN THE THEATRE

Richard Schechner's theory of performance	189
Robert Wilson: highlighting perceptual discontinuities	198
The Wooster Group: the historical reality of hallucinations	202
Laurie Anderson: storytelling in an electronic landscape	206

8 ANTHROPOLOGY AND PERFORMANCE

Combining performance and anthropology	213
The anthropology of African and Afro-American performances	218
Combining anthropology and art: critical approaches	222

III A POETICS OF REFLEXIVITY

9 TOWARDS A PHILOSOPHY OF MIMESIS

Shortcomings of philosophical postmodernism	231
The role of mimesis	239
The reflexive potential of early Romanticism	241

10 THE MODEL OF EARLY ROMANTICISM

Reflexive aesthetics: the matter of subjectivity	245
Art as philosophy, philosophy as art	252
The early Romantic aesthetic and Byrne's work	264

11 BENJAMIN AND ADORNO ON MYTHS IN MODERNITY

Subjectivity between naturalism and symbolism	269
Imagination transformed by photography	275
The modern capital as a montage of mythical images	280
The industrial production of fun	288
The modernization of mimetic experience	292

12 THE GESAMTKUNSTWERK AS LABORATORY

The experimental functions of poiesis	297
Electronic extensions of the imagination	304
Mimetic reflexivity	311
We are the noise between stations	316

NOTES	323
-------	-----

BIBLIOGRAPHY	363
--------------	-----

INDEX	379
-------	-----

SAMENVATTING (SUMMARY IN DUTCH)	389
---------------------------------	-----

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	399
-----------------	-----

CURRICULUM VITAE	401
------------------	-----